

The Ohio State University of Mansfield will be providing several courses ON BASE beginning this fall term. The intent is to provide an opportunity for professional development as well as to support our own in finishing up their CCAF degrees.

Please keep this in mind as you make your educational plans (deadline for fall term is 1 July if you intend to use the scholarship program). Caveat: Admission, class dates, tuition, books, etc is at the discretion of each member just like if the courses were offered off base.

The Ohio State University is on quarters and each of the three courses that are being offered below are five credit hour courses:

-Communications 321 (Principles of Effective Public Speaking) – Monday/Wednesday 1130-1330

-Political Science 245 (The U.S. in World Politics) – Tuesday/Thursday 1700-1900

-Economics 110.01 (Basic Economic Concepts: Current Economic Events in Historical Perspective) – Tuesday/Thursday 1130-1230
*note, this course is only one hour per class and has a 50% on-line component.

More information will be provided in the coming weeks.
